Upcoming Events with CPPA

The CPPA Board of Directors would like to send you best wishes as we enter the holiday season. We hope you will be celebrating with family and friends.

We also hope you are planning to celebrate with industry friends at the upcoming CPPA Holiday Party and Annual Meeting on Dec 8. We will toast another year of service, celebrate the leaders of the past and elect the incoming leaders for 2017. (Members who cannot attend can submit vote by proxy by clicking here.)

Speaking of 2017, it will be here before we know it and we want to be sure you are planning to join us for the Peake Awards Celebration (Jan 31) and Winter EXPO (Feb 1). Nominations are being accepted until Dec 30 and registration is open for both events. (Click the links above to nominate an industry star or to register for the events.)

Lastly, the Board would like to thank you for your continued commitment to CPPA. In coming weeks you will be asked to renew your membership for 2017. We hope you are maximizing your

May the coming year bring good tidings for the industry, our members and for our association.

Cheers!

This Is WHY I EXPO

I Take Walks on the WILD SIDE

The PPAI Expo equipped me with the tools I need to perform at my best. Success to me means I'm able to handle urgent deadlines and last-minute client meetings without having to sacrifice my own time. While others are scrambling to finish unexpected projects, I'm spending my time exploring nature with my furry friends. The PPAI Expo helps me be successful and reconnect with nature.

"Enhancing the Client Experience... Reaching New Heights in Customer Service"

Credit: Cliff Quicksell, Jr., MAS

An amazing amount of information is being circulated about creating a unique user experience as it relates to sales and marketing. Is this the latest trend? Yes, and it goes beyond just sales and marketing.

Companies face various challenges: untrained workers, lack of accountability, and a less than average work ethic. What happens when a customer service person is presented with an issue or problem; how is it resolved?

I think it's important to take a moment and reflect what goes on in the mind of our clients; remember they have numerous choices. How well have you trained your staff? They undoubtedly understand the nuances of your business, but what about those of your client? I believe if we can have our customer service folks realize that EVERY tough we have with our clients is an opportunity to build deeper trust and loyalty, two attributes that have all but been cut from the business fabric today.

So, as a business owner, what should you be looking for in that top notch customer service person? Read more here
